Dr. Robert Iadevaio
Physician
Pain Management Center of Long Island

Board certified in pain management, anesthesiology and acupuncture, Iadevaio is a physician with PMCLI, a Rockville Centre-based pain management practice that opened a third location in Great Neck last month and plans to open a fourth in Commack this month. Iadevaio's pain medicine practice includes a wide range of interventional and pharmacological therapies, which he applies in treating patients with various chronic pain conditions. Cancer and neuropathic pain syndromes are specialty areas for him. In addition to his responsibilities with PMCLI, Iadevaio is an attending anesthesiologist at South Nassau Communities Hospital.
